

FAQs – UUCC Regathering Plan

When will we worship in Sanctuary C again?

If the metrics indicate risk level is low, the first in-person worship service will be held in Sanctuary C on Sunday, September 12, at 10AM. The specific logistics for the service are under development and may involve some occupancy restrictions.

Will we have to wear masks?

Yes. To be inclusive of members of the community of all ages, we will wear masks until vaccinations are available to all.

What about the kids?

In-person programming for children will not resume in September. After August 1, the staff will begin developing plans for when in-person can resume.

What about singing?

We do not know when we will be able safely to resume singing during in-person services, nor when the choir will be able to rehearse safely in person. Decisions about choir rehearsals and singing in worship will be made after August 1, when Michael Adcock, Director of Music, returns from sabbatical.

When can I make a reservation for an OBIC room?

Starting now, you may make reservations for mid-July, August, and September.

Will I still be able to attend remotely? If yes, for which activities?

Worship services will be accessible remotely. As much as possible, we will provide remote options for other activities. Organizers will make decisions for private events.

What would cause us to stop meeting in person, and who will decide?

The risk level will be assessed weekly using available metrics. The UUCC Executive Team, in consultation with the Regathering Task Force and/or the Board of Trustees, will decide which planned activities may go forward, based on that risk level.
